Research Field: Floyd Dewhirst was deciphering the oral microbiome before the term microbiome was created. Dewhirst’s primary research focus has been to define the diversity, genetic capability and pathogenic potential of organisms present in the human oral cavity.

Date: September 17
Time: 10:30 am
Room: 1055
NADC Host: Torey Looft

Visitors need to bring a photo ID to enter facility